Every collector should have a specimen of each of the Thirteen Colonies and of the different issues of the Confederate States of America. The listings are of the earliest American coinage up to the establishing of the mint at Philadelphia in 1792.

Dear Sir:-

Replying to your letter of Feb. 21st., the printer made an error in marking my circular "American Numismatic Society", which, should have been American Numismatic Association, of which I have been a member for some time; this was not done with any intent, whatever, to mislead.

I have been thinking for some time past of applying to your Society for membership but up to the present time have simply put it off, ~~as~~ I am personally acquainted with a number of your members in New York City.

Gentlemen:

Attention: Mr. Edw. T. Newell.

I have been working on a checking list of Half-dollars and through Mr. Proskey I have learned that you have a Proof Confederate Half-dollar and I would like if you would examine this and advise me if there is a crack from the base of the nose, just past the star to the edge. This information is desired for checking purposes.

I also wish to know if you have in the Society's Collection, an 1853 Half-dollar without rays. If not, do you know of any collector who has one of these? I have never seen one and before listing it I must know if someone has it to whom I will give credit. So far the coin is only "hearsay" and the ones that I have examined have proven to be altered dates. I am very anxious to list all of the varieties that are actually in existence.

Half-dollars

My collection of Half-dollars is now well over 1200 die varieties.

I would be very glad to hear from you at your earliest convenience, and beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

M. L. Beistle

Dear Sir:

Our Confederate Half Dollar has a crack running from the bridge of the nose by the star to the edge of the coin. You state in your letter, from the base of the nose. This should be, as I saw, from the bridge of the nose. There are also regular half dollars showing this die-break and they undoubtedly must have been struck by the Confederates.

I think Mr. John W. Garrett, c/o Robert Garrett & Company, Baltimore, has the 1853 half dollar. Mr. Wayne Raymond possibly could tell you where one might be. I am sorry not to have seen you when you were up here the other day but Monday is a bad day to find us in.
